

Dear friends of In The Meantime,
I am happy to be meeting you all next week. Ahead of our meeting I wanted to send over a small reader containing some links / ideas / further reading around what we'll be talking about. I'm planning to share a lot of information with you in the short space of time we have together, so here is a way that you can expand and go deeper into these topics of care, access and community if you would like to <3
Romily

This reader is produced in large format and screen reader friendly text, the links should be clickable. If you need a different format to be able to access this information please contact me at romilyalicewalden@gmail.com
